

Pasa Pret Camp enjoys Sinterklaas at Mickey D's in Santa Cruz

Juffrow Betty and Juffrow Eunice of the Pasa Pret camp made sure it was a McSinterklas afternoon for the preschool age youngsters of the Pasa Pret Camp day care center. There was everything the kids love to at the McDonald's in Santa Cruz to make it a perfect celebration of Dec 5, there was the Play Center that kept them busy for hours, there were Happy Meals to chomp on, and there was a BIG pile of presents that they eagerly awaited to pounce on. The only thing missing was Sinterklas himself, who after calling in late finally never made it all, so Juffrow Betty did the honors of giving out the presents and saying the traditional poems.

Did the kids seem disappointed? Not in the least! Oh, a visit from Sinterklaas and his Swarte Piet would have been nice, but they know he is very busy on his birthday, with many, many children to visit, but they had a terrific time and McDonald's and got their presents, so they were in a very forgiving mood.
